

Jonathan Johnson Race Report – May 25th, 2009

We pulled double duty last weekend. I drove a friends Super Comp car at the Division 4 Race a Houston Raceway Park and went a couple of rounds with it. Katie and I also took the Mini-Sprint out Saturday night and ran very well until the clutch pack came apart. We started on the pole of the first heat race and ran second. The second heat race, they invert us (thus I started in the rear) and was running second until the clutch pack came apart on back straight on the final lap. We still ran third but were unable to start the feature. We have the parts on order to fix the car and are really looking forward to the upcoming races with the strides we have made over the last two. Sorry it took me a week to get you the results, but we are having a ball!!! We will have some new videos on the website shortly.
