

CHAD LAYTON EYES FEATURE WINS AND CHAMPIONSHIP ON RISLONE URC SPRINT TOUR

The Rislone URC Sprint Series is a very attractive option for thirty-three year old Chad Layton of Harrisburg, PA.

Layton owns eleven 410 sprint car victories; he owns three championship titles at Selinsgrove and two at Williams Grove. In 2005, Chad Layton becomes the first driver to win a 410 and 358 sprint feature in the same night at Williams Grove. Layton was also the Rookie of the Year driver at the Lincoln Speedway in 1998. Not only does Chad have this long list of accomplishments, his performance on the track is viewed by many as smooth, calculated and yet on the edge. Chad Layton is certainly going to mix things up in URC this season.

As Chad Layton heads to URC and their season opener at the Bridgeport Speedway on April 11, he clearly understands that he has his work cut out for him. There is no doubt that the Rislone URC Sprint Series is the most challenging and competitive 360 sprint series in the country. Between the URC nightly purse, to their special events payoff and point fund, the United Racing Company stands head and toes above all the rest.

Layton was very complimentary of defending six-time URC Champion Curt Michael, one of Layton's strongest competitors in the chase for the URC crown. On several occasions,

For URC, their sixty-second season will get the green flag at the Bridgeport Speedway on Saturday night, April 11. Along with Chad Layton and Curt Michael, the URC roster of talent includes JJ Grasso, Becca Anderson, Michael Carber, Kramer Williamson, Robbie Stillwaggon, Davey Sammons, Danny Massey, Kyle Purks, Chuck Palmucci, Mark Bitner, Joey Biasi, 2008 Rookie of the Year Brett Schoenly, Art Liedl and Scott Pursell just to name a few.
